The gang seeing Axel in hot pursuit starts off-loading crates in his path, so some nifty driving is needed to avoid these and other road users before getting close enough to stop them by the only way he knows - by blasting them off the road and shooting at and exploding the crates inside the van with his faithful Colt 45 automatic.

There are four floors with independent lifts connecting each floor. You are only able to go up or down one floor in the same lift.

The hostage tells Axel that Bruno Bardolino's has a bomb in the building which he intends to use if he is found by the police. Axel must take this threat seriously but not be intimidated enough to get out and save his own skin.
