PLAYING DELTA

Credits — Normally you destroy aliens to earn credits, but some attacking formations may decrease your credits. You lose all unused credits after passing through armament and ship enhancement icons.

Armament — You will often fly past new weapons and ship enhancements between alien attacks. You can safely add blue icons, but the gray ones will obliterate your ship. Fly directly into a blue icon to add it to your ship. Your credit balance will appear along the bottom of the screen. Weapons and ship enhancements eventually wear out and you'll need to find new ones.

The list below depicts the weapons and ship enhancements you can find:

EXTRA SPEED

Cost: One credit.

Increases velocity. Don't overdo it or your engines might overload.

PROTECTOR

Cost: Five credits.

Lacerate approaching enemies with this spinning ball of shrapnel.

RATE OF FIRE

Cost: Two credits.

Provides additional fire power.

WARPER

Cost: Six credits.

Slows time so you can shoot slow—moving enemies while maintaining your normal speed.

MULTIPLE FIRE

Cost: Three credits.

Fire from rear, port and starboard.

SUPA SHIELD

Cost: Seven credits.

Provides the ultimate protection from enemy blasts.

FISH WEAPON

Cost: Four credits.

Now you can go after the really tough enemies.
