THE STORY

Over one hundred million years ago, in between the Jurassic and the Cretaceous periods, a prehistoric hero was born — a small and apparently insignificant dinosaur named DINO-Bunz. But when he rolled himself into a ball, he could knock down the mightiest of dinosaurs.

DINO's heroic adventures begin when he must protect his sweetheart, Meeshell, from gigantic, vicious and carnivorous dinosaurs.

3 DINOSAUR EXTINCTION THEORIES

What made the dinosaurs disappear from the face of the earth back some 65 million years ago? A number of theories, such as extinction by disease, a genetic disorder, cosmic rays, etc., have been discussed over the years by scholars but none have been substantiated yet. Here we would like to mention three prominent theories. Which theory do you believe in?

1/ DINOSAUR'S EXTINCTION BY EARTHQUAKE THEORY

Some 65 million years ago, at the end of the Cretaceous period, major movements of the earth's crust occurred which created catastrophic earthquakes and ground movements, consequently all the dinosaurs were buried in the earth.

2/ DINOSAUR'S EXTINCTION BY A FALLING METEORITE

At the end of the Cretaceous period, a huge meteor, as big as a moon, collided with the earth. Dust created by the fall covered the planet and the sun's rays could not reach the ground; thus it changed the warm climate of the period to a much colder one. When the earth's vegetation died as a result of the temperature change, the dinosaurs could not find enough to eat and also soon died out.

3/ DINOSAUR'S EXTINCTION BY THE ICE AGE

In the latter part of the Cretaceous period, the black spot of our sun grew bigger; that greatly lowered the temperature of the earth. This led to the Ice Age, changing the earth's climate to such a degree that the dinosaurs could not survive.

MINI ENCYCLOPEDIA OF DINOSAURS

THE LAND SCENE

ORNITHOLESTES: 7 foot long carnivorous dinosaur that lived in the North American continent during the Jurassic period. They were agile and the front legs had sharp claws used to catch animals.

DIMETRODON: 10 foot long dinosaurs that lived on the North American continent during the late Permian period. They possessed a large sail-like protrusion on their back which kept their body temperature even. Their main diet consisted of fish and they lived near the water.

TARBOSAURUS: 39 foot-long carnivorous dinosaurs that lived on the East Asian continent during the late Cretaceous period. Their heads were over three feet long and they had very nasty temperaments.

THE SKY SCENE

KUEHNEOSAURUS: At about 5 feet long, these dinosaurs lived in the European continent during the late Jurassic period. They liked to glide in the sky with their membranous wings spread out.

ARCHAEOPTERYX: The oldest known avian dinosaur that lived on the European continent during the late Jurassic period. They had wings with feathers, but unlike present birds, they did not fly.

RHAMPHORHYNCHUS: Small-sized avian dinosaurs that lived in the North American and East African Continents during the late Jurassic period. They are known to navigate through the air with their tail which had a diamond-shaped bony tip.

THE OCEAN SCENE

METRIORHYNCHUS: Dinosaurs that lived around South Africa and South America in the early Permian period. They swam with their long tails and webbed feet catching fish with their sharp teeth.

ICHTHYOSAURUS: Carnivorous fish lived in the ocean during the Jurassic period. They swam in groups like dolphins and are known to be fast swimmers.

PARASAUROLOPHUS: 30 foot long dinosaur that lived around North America during the late Cretaceous period. They could stay in the water for long periods of time, because they had a raised nasal bone in which air could be stored.

NOTES

Our software game DINOLAND has a continue mode and a password function. When your game is over, you can restart the game by selecting CONTINUE and pressing the start button. Your score and the level of the game remain the same.

DINO'S TRANSFORMATION

In the Normal Stage, you get points by knocking down enemy dinosaurs and bumping into the bumper with Dino the ball. In certain boss stages, Dino can transform into a dinosaur.

In the Normal Stage, the B button is to shake the scene but in the boss stage, the B button is to change Dino into a dinosaur. In the boss stage, there are many situations that require Dino to be a dinosaur. Learn to use the two modes of Dino to knock down enemy boss characters.

WEATHER

In each stage, there is a hidden access way to the boss stage. The boss stage exists in the land, the bottom of the ocean and the sky scenes. How to get to the boss stage is a secret, but when you enter the boss stage, you can change Dino into a dinosaur by pressing the B button. Learn to use Dino in the ball mode and the dinosaur mode well and knock down the enemy boss character, then you can rescue Dino's sweetheart, Meeshell, who is caught somewhere in DINOLAND.
